History of the Class of 1926 ½

February 1924 witnessed the arrival of about 150 timid and verdant pupils who were to be known later as the class of $1926\frac{1}{2}$. For the present, however, we were known as freshmen.

Our first semester was spent in getting acquainted with everything and everybody and in envying those "High and Mighty Seniors."

As IA's we were determined to get started.

We were fortunate enough to have for our faculty advisers, Mrs. Rideout, Miss Wallon, and Mr. Stone. With their aid we were able to draw up a constitution and elect class officers.

We selected the following officers to represent us:

Charles Rivers—President
Brainerd Nims—Secretary

Bertha Keating—Vice-President
Fred Demarest—Treasurer

N. 11 P. 12 P.

Neil Beckwith—Member-at-large Dean Burlingame, Boys' Athletic

Manager

Bernice Vining—Girls' Athletic Manager

Our class always has stood for quality and not quantity.

When we were IIB's, we attempted to make the school aware of our existence by announcing a social. This was our first opportunity to get acquainted. It was a shock to the class to find the walls of the gym lined with sturdy young men with only here and there a touch of color added by a member of the fair sex.

Our next social event was a Mardi Gras dance held in our IIIB year. Many novelties were introduced of which the balloon dance was the most outstanding.

The thought that was uppermost in our minds at the beginning of our senior year was to find some way of enlarging our treasury in order to help meet graduation expenses. We were informed that a bazaar had been the means by which our predecessors had met this problem, but the thought of how to run a bazaar with 100 boys and half a dozen girls was a problem. An "Autumn Hop" was substituted which turned out to be a great success financially as well as otherwise.

Our class meetings have always been more or less solemn precedures. This is probably due to the fact that we have had efficient leaders. For the past year we have had the following officers:

Kenneth Berry—President

John S. Maloney—Secretary

Bertha Keating—Vice-President

Earl Hewinson—Treasurer

Charles Rivers—Member-at-large Brainerd Nims—Boys' Athletic Manager

Olive Calverley—Girls' Athletic Manager.

The business of the class has always been carried on by the outstanding members of the class, but occasionally some new and feeble voice might be heard seconding a motion or making a move to adjourn; that is, if he could get ahead of Stone.

We pride ourselves in having lived up to our constitution at all times, but how could we ever have gone astray with Maloney always there with the constitution ready to put his finger on the right article at the right moment.

This is our history so far, and we have enjoyed it in the making. We hope that our future events will be as enjoyable and as profitable as these have been.

Burton H. Moody

Last Will and Testament of 1926¹/₂

We the Class of $1926\frac{1}{2}$, of the Technical High School, in the city of Spring-field, County of Hampden, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, do now record out last will and testament. It is our purpose to dispose of our various chattels that each may go to the most deserving heir.

FIRST—We do appoint Mr. Stone and Mrs. Rideout as our executors.

Second—We the IIIA class leave the first six rows in the assembly to the incoming seniors.

Third— We also leave to the IIIB's as many senior privileges as they may be able to manage.

FOURTH—To Miss Weaver and to Mr. Hitchcock we bequeath two steel bars to be used to calm the great chaos caused by the most unruly scholars.

 F_{IFTH} —Florence Meacham leaves her modesty and shy manners to Dorothy Chisholm.

Sixth—Norma Warnock leaves her undisputed popularity to Dorothy De Nyse.

Seventh—John Maloney leaves his superiority complex, as well as his conceit, to Arthur Bigelow.

Eight—Harry Prosl leaves his ability to start an argument with Doctor Cockayne to Joseph Falt.

NINTH—Mary Boden bequeaths her bus tickets to Wilbraham to any poor, unfortunate commuter.

Tenth—Izetta Wetherell leaves her troubles to Alice Cunningham.

ELEVENTH—Mary Jane Hopper leaves her position as property mistress to Carolyn Marsh whom we deem a worth successor.

Twelfth—Jake Slavin leaves his wit and humor to Ruth Hayden.

Thirteenth—Charles Rivers leaves his congeniality and ear to ear smile as an ideal for future Techites to strive for in the development of Tech Spirit.

FOURTEENTH—Bob Christifori leaves his athletic ability to Norman Myrick.

FIFTEENTH—Kenneth Berry leaves his ability to be in several places at the same time to the future IIIA class president.

Sixteenth—Jack Derby leaves the secret of his marcel to Katherine Ingals whom we believe to be a worthy heir.

Seventeenth—The authors of this will leave every hope for continued success to Mr. Marsh, the faculty, and the students.

Eighteenth—We, the class of $1926\frac{1}{2}$, leave the proposed New Assembly Hall and lunchroom to our grandchildren or their lineal descendents, if they do not materialize in their day.

Subscribed, sealed, published, and declared by the aboved named testators as their last Will and Testament in the presence of the undersigned, who at their request and in the presence of each other have herewith subscribed their names as witnesses.

BERTHA KEATING EVA HALL LEWIS STONE

Class Prophecy of 1926 ½

The phototelephone had been invented at last and I was about to make use of it. Speaking directly into the transmitter I said, "I wish to spend $25.00 a minute speaking to America."

At the end of a long interval, Central answered, "I can't seem to get your call through. When I last heard of it, it was passing the Fiji Islands. That was quite a while ago. It must have struck an ether wave and gone down by the head."

This was too much for me. I then shouted back, "This is an outrage! Last night I tried to get a call through, but it was attacked in mid-ocean by sea-gulls, who ate all of it but the apostrophes."

Central did not reply but must have crossed the wires, for there in the photo place was a laboratory scene. Looking closely, I saw a committee composed of Roland Johnson, Allen Belcher, and John Kelly investigating a recent invention of Maurice McNulty's for killing jelly-fish by tickling them to death.

The picture quickly changed to that of a large hall where John S. Maloney was giving his course for attracting the fair sex. Prominent in the audience was John Duffy, divorced husband of his ex-wife, Olive Calverley.

The view shifted and I perceived what was taking place. In New York the first thing that attracted my attention was the following huge sign, "Have your embalming done by the Charles Meserve's Decorating Parlors."

A little further down the street I saw that the famous (?) tumbling expert Rollin Morehouse was to appear at Weeks' Wonder Theatre. Its featured picture, "Why Girls Prefer Caveman Methods," was starring Jake Slavin and Norma Warnock.

Across the way I saw a sign telling of Alexander Brown's widely advertised cure for the deaf and dumb.

Now with the picture came all of the noises which were transmitted over the phone in their full tone. This was the reason for my attention next being drawn to a fiery argument over ancestry between Elery Gibson, widely-known inventor of the rapid wind spaghetti fork, and Earl Hewinson, proprietor of the famous Watchus, Grabbit and Runn Moneylending Co. The argument was finally settled by Rudolph Sarna who read the following from a ponderous volume:

"Elery, the first, had numerous descendents; one of whom was the father of several other Gibsons, for thirteen generations." Rudolph paused. Then—"About this time the world was created—."

In the riot that followed Chief-of-Policy John McCarthy and his first aid Myron Zieff arrested James Drummond, a violent radical with Eric Johnson better known as Eric the Red.

An ambulance drove up and out stepped Alden Cordner who later reported that no lives were lost in the disturbance.

A short time later Rial Potter, trying to sell medicine to increase the height of short men, was arrested by constable Julian Cassidy for emitting hot air dangerous to other persons in the near vicinity.

The picture changed and Springfield came into view. There in the office of the Principal of Tech High was Betty Marsh, filling her renowned father's shoes.

Next, an advertisement on a billboard stated that George Siegel had invented an odorless perfume. Good for him. He was always experimenting in perfumes at Tech. The scene changed to Wilbraham where I saw a chicken pie-plant farm owned by Mary Boden and Rodney Blanchard. This is a plant on which milkweed and chicked have been grafted.

Boston took the place of Wilbraham and again a laboratory was pictured. Raymond Hall and Albert Marchetti were trying to invent a machine for creating holes in air pockets.

Ray Hall had put me to sleep with his "line" when I was awakened by hearing Neil Beckwith, singing, "A Southern Rhapsody," by William Hanke, who never could write.

The next sight that came before me was a room in which Dr. Stanley Foster was warning Sydney Jones from further indulgence in his latest dance step.

As this disappeared the Boston Art Shop took its place which I learned was owned by Homer Bufton and Verne Cole.

On the Common, I saw Izzy Glastein, a whitewing, pick up a Boston Newspaper and peering over his shoulders, I read the following: "Clifford Hall, famous Scotch comedian, marries Miss Bertha H. Keating, famous Boston debutante!" Poor Cliff! As Glastein turned the paper we saw in the advertising section where Izetta Wetherell's well-known trouble cure was advertised. Then on the next page we saw that Florence Meacham was holding a reception for Lewis Stone, admiral of the Scotch Navy.

Once more the scene changed and in the lobby of the Lyons Hotel were Frank Warner and Douglas Callahan, bellboys, about to escort Carol Whittaker the renowned equestrian to his room.

Next a road house came into view. There in the office were Mary Jane Hopper and Inez Paine about to sell out to Sigward Holmes. His attorney, Klempner, was negotiating the deal. Their plans were constantly being interrupted by outbursts from Sheldon's Seven Squelchers. A terrible blast from a clarinet informed us that Henry Rubinwitch was a member.

CHARLES RIVERS KENNETH BERRY

Prophecy on the Prophets

"Riversdale!—Next stop is Riversdale"—The conductor shouted as the train slowed down. Filled with curosity I stepped to the platform.

"Where is the best hotel?" I asked the wrinkled old station agent.

"Over yonder," said he, pointing to an old, tumbled down two story house. Swallowing the rest of the questions I was going to ask I turned on my heel and started on a trip of exploration about town. I had not gone far when I heard the clatter of hoofs. Looking up I saw a man and woman riding in an old fashioned carryall. Peering closely into their faces I discovered to my astonishment Gladys Knowlton and Charles Rivers. Reining his horses to a standstill Charles motioned for me to get into the carriage. After some explanations had been made, he took me to his office at the Town Hall. I discovered that he was the Mayor of Riversdale, while Gladys was the Town Gossip Collector.

Our talk naturally led up to old classmates. Thinking it strange that he avoided mentioning our most sarcastic "Ken" Berry, I broached the subject. He explained that "Ken" was the head of "Berry Hall College" and invited me to visit it in his company. Unfortunately I had not time to do this. I thought I should be forced to leave without having seen "Ken". This catastrophe was prevented by Charles' arranging a big send-off to take place the next day.

At the station when Charles had finished his farewell address, "Ken" came to the platform. After greeting me he told "Charlie" that he had a book with him in which every word of the address was written. Charles outraged at the suggestion that the talk was not original, demanded to see it. Whereupon "Ken" produced from the folds of his dean's robe a magnificent copy of Webster's Dictionary.

But already the train was speeding on its way and carrying me from town. The last glimpse I had was those two old reprobates holding their sides with laughter and waving a farewell to me.

THE THE PARTY OF T

Echoes from 1926 ± Banquet

There is a young lady named Meacham, Who always can beckon or reach 'em; She picked out our pins; She picked out our rings, Brought 'em in—we had only to reach 'em.

There is a young lady named Eva; I can't find a thing that would peeve her. She smiles at the rain, She grins when in pain, And she's never been mad when I've seen her.

There is a young lady named Mary; Of her you'd better be wary. She's hot stuff with a gun; Shoots twice and hits one. Of her Sargeant Slavin is scary.

There is a young lady named Hopper, She slipped and then came a cropper. She thought she was dead, Thought twice, and then said, "Is my hat on and do I look proper?"

There is a young girl called Izetta, Whose name is one big bad letter. I've had quite a time, To hunt up a rhyme, And I've not got track of one yet-a.

To John S. Maloney we bow; In class he is prominent now; But the big letter S In his name, we confess, If omitted will stir up a row.

Alice Carleton Wetmore

November 6, 1908 June 25, 1926

To Alice

Her sweet young voice
We hear no more—
Her laughter kind and gay.
Her loving word
And gentle smile
Have passed with yesterday.
But the hearts of those
Who knew her here,
Will cherish them alway.

Class History

To-night we are gathered for probably the last time in the Tech Assembly Hall. Our fathers and mothers are here, proudly viewing their girl or boy. I wonder whether you remember the first time that we assembled here? How small and insignificant you felt when cold eyed traffic officers and determined members of the faculty herded you, as cattle, into this hall! How many shivers raced up and down your spine as time went on and on before you were assigned to your first home room in high school! Where were your friends? More than likely at Central or Commerce, or some other place than where you were, poor unfortunate Freshmen!

Two important events happened that semester. We entered Tech; our beautiful new building was used for the first time, and we were the ones to use it! Do you remember how sometimes we had the laugh on the Seniors? How sometimes when they were meekly searching, if Seniors can be meek, for some room in that building, we, with all dignity, directed them to their destination?

Remember the first time that we assembled in the far-famed "cigar-box" to meet our class officers? And were you down in that "cigar-box" the evening of April 9, 1926 to appreciate and enjoy our first class dance called the "Ming Long Dance?" Did you come stag and then help to make a charming color scheme around the wall? (This dance, by the way, was the last one for which we sold stag tickets!)

What nerve-racking meetings were held in the lunchroom when we were discussing suitable class colors! Once, you remember, in sheer desperation and as a last resort to obtain order, Harry used a cocoa mug as a gavel!

Ever to be remembered is the day when it was announced that one of our classmates had composed the winning words for our school song and had thereby won a prize of five dollars! That classmate, then obscure and unknown, is now our president, Norman Myrick!

We shall not forget the two class dances that we have conducted this past year with the very capable and necessary help of Marion Nichols as committee chairman! Weren't those jolly snow-balls we threw at our IIIB Snow Carnival the 28th of January? And the real, honest-to-goodness, guaranteed-to-be-wet rain did not dampen our fun the night of the IIIA Sport Dance!

We shall remember always the final Senior activities, this Class Night, our Prom, and our Graduation!

Our three years of high school life have passed all too quickly. The usual events have befallen us as they have others. We have felt the thrill of hearing our names read on the Honor Roll, we have experienced the sting of failure to make a team or to pass a test. Yet with all our trials and tribulations we have spent three very successful years here at Tech!

Class Will of 1927

Know all Men by these Presents:

That we, the Class of 1927 of the Technical High School, in the city of Springfield, the county of Hampden, and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do make this our last will and testament, revoking all wills by us at any time heretofore made.

After the payment of our just debts, we declare that our property shall be disposed of as hereinafter directed.

- 1 We leave to the incoming freshman class the helpful guidance of Miss Wilson, Mr. Brown and Mr. Aiken.
- 2 Norman Myrick leaves his gavel and ability to lead a wandering class to Arthur Ross; his stock of stories to Mr. Morgan.
- 3 We leave to Miss Lutes, Miss Balcom and Miss Wilson a long waiting list of cooks aspiring to practice their art in the kitchens.
- 4. We generously bequeath our favorite introductory phrase to the future leaders of 1928 students' assemblies, "For the program this morning we have chosen—"; our pet transition, "The next number on the program this morning will be given by So and So," "We are pleased to have with us this morning by So and So" and "The next and last number on our program is—."
- 5 William O'Connor leaves his book on, "How to laugh and Grow Fat," to Frieda Jacobus.
- 6 We leave our places in the lunch line, if they can get them first, to the incoming seniors.
- 7 Annie Dunlop and Harry Perkins leave their mutual attraction to Doris Thomas and Morris Kalman.
 - 8 Harry Perkins leaves his place on the "gym" team to some other clown.
 - 9 "Bob" Ames leaves her black tie to some member of the Forum.
- 10 We leave the three rooms now occupied by the seniors to the incoming seniors.
- 11 Allan Belcher leaves to any lucky pupil a Traffic Squad band as an excuse for entering classes after the bell has rung.
- 12 Everet Wegman leaves his ability to get a passing mark in English without working for it to some other slick student.
- 13 Bigelow leaves his foolishness to Katherine Ingalls and hopes that she uses it to the best advantage as he has done.
- 14 The present German Club leaves its ability to be called a club without having meetings to the next German Club and all other clubs wishing the same privilege.
- 15 George Hamilton leaves his ability to attain the maximum honor roll to John Frisbie.
- 16 Room 28 leaves the ticket selling banner to the next room worthy of attaining it.
 - 17 With great regret we leave Miss Richmond to Room 28.
- 18 We bequeath to the junior class the alibies: "I was absent yesterday," "The page is out of my book," "I lost it on the way to school," "It's in my locker," "I can't find it," "I lost the assignment."

- 19 Francis McCabe leaves his marcel to Esther Berg.
- 20 The out going staff members of "Tech Life" leave their worries and troubles to the under-graduates, with best wishes for the future.

In testimony whereof, We, the said Class of 1927, have set our hand and seal to this last will and testament, written this eighteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven.

Prophecy of the Class of 1927

We were wending our weary way down a sun-scorched macadam road in the general direction of East Longmeadow's famous airport, thinking of the bygone days (some 20 years since) when we were students in "Ye Olde" Tech High.

days (some 20 years since) when we were students in "Ye Olde" Tech High.

We were rudely interrupted by a tremendous din. Curious, we proceeded to investigate; as a result of our painstaking search, we came upon a very impressive scene. In the midst of a motely crowd headed by French, was "Art" House, alias "Bug" House selling tickets; from him issued forth a verbal stream of palaver about a "Round the World Air Cruise," for $3.33 per. He maintained that the trip would be very beneficial to their health; and also to their peace of mind in case creditors were pursuing them too closely.

The mob was swarming over the field like flies on spilt syrup. Due to the quick action of East Longmeadow's police force, E. Collis, order was soon restored. We were surprised when we found that Leff and Silver were sponsoring the excursion. When we knew this, our hesitation as to whether we should squander perfectly good money upon the trip quickly vanished.

It was necessary, nevertheless, to obtain some minute data in regard to the course we were to take, before we trusted our valuable anatomies to any inflated helium buggy. All fear went when Leff and Silver Inc. announced that their master pilot, William Ardito, was to manoeuver our non-sinkable atmosphere cruiser.

The time soon arrived for the takeoff. All the tourists and rubber necks lined the promenade deck bidding tearful farewells to their friends, relatives, and many acquaintances. As Nocetti was puffing and heaving to hoist the anchor, a terrific bedlam of voices arose in the direction of the ticket booth. The noise soon abated, however, and we later found that it was only "Art" Bigelow our eminent debater striving to inveigle "Bug" House to cut down the rates for him on the grounds that his uncle's brothers' stepmother had owned three shares of stock in the Leff and Silver Corporation (shares 15c. each). He was finally politely ejected from the box office, recalling to our memories the days of yore and the 1927 class meetings.

Eventually we found ourselves soaring above the cumulus clouds. It took us at least five or six minutes to get to New York as our mechanic, John Allan, was frantically raying because he had spoiled the polish on his finger nails and ruined the part in his hair.

The ship slowed up over the city. The first thing to meet our eyes was a prodigious sign bearing the legend,

"Barbara Moody
American Premiere Danceuse
in
"NICK" ZADE'S SCANDALS
of 1947"

The next sign which confronted us bore the following:

"Guenther's Emporium of Nourishment Eat here and you will never eat anywhere else."

After seeing the spots of interest in New York we flew on.

A few minutes later we were startled by the noise of several shots. We were told not to be alarmed as we were merely entering Chicago. We peered down and saw about three hundred policemen under the able leadership of Capt. McCarty successfully holding at bay three of Nassif's gang while waiting for reinforcements from headquarters. A truck arrived and queer looking objects were being dealt out to the cops. On the side of the vehicle was painted

"USE W. HAYDEN'S

SHRAPNEL PROOF VESTS."

Guaranteed against bullets, bottles, bricks and bombs.

A receptacle for receiving used rubbish (commonly called an ash can) burst close to us as a result of a stray leaden bullet cutting it. Our pilot immediately decided to move on as elections for mayor were being held with Norman Myrick and Marion Nichols running on opposite platforms. (Don't take running literally.)

At San Francisco we stopped to fill up at a Corco gas station in preparation for our flight across the Pacific. As we were leaving, we saw Herbert Carlson painting the hinges on the Golden Gate. He had as an assistant Ainor Wickstrom who was working very rapidly. Evidently he wished to finish before the paint gave out.

Outside the twelve mile limit we saw a strange looking vessel. Upon inquiry we found that two men named Paul Johnson and Wesley Restall were carrying on the business of bleaching Asiatics so that they might evade the immigration laws.

Over the Japanese archipelago we saw great activity along the coast. We learned from a fellow passenger that the firm of Plum, Pepper, and Pedrazzi was filling in the seven mile hole off the coast to make the islands safe from earthquakes.

We were astonished to see a toboggan slide down Mt. Everest. At the top of the slide was a bill board upon which was emblazoned:

"ZIMMERMAN'S ZEPHYR ZIP

World's Slipperyest Slippery Slide."

While flying over Arabia we saw a tea-room. We decided that this must be Wennerstrom, Waldron, Walsh and Willcutt's Exclusive Tea-Room for desert or deserted shieks. Across the street S. Winquist was doing a flourishing competitive business for shy shebas and winsome women.

Looking down upon Venice we saw Harry Robbins piloting a gondola through the waterways with Annie Dunlop and H. Perkins ensconced therein. Incidentally Perkins' mustache had become a Van Dyke.

A large agricultural region in sunny Italy next drew our attention, this was the property of Joyce, Nims and Joyce Garlic Fields, Limited. We also perceived through a pair of binoculars "Nick" Palazzo industriously tending his spaghetti ranch.

Over Spain we heard the plaintiff notes of a harmonica. Looking down we found the player to be L. Hamilton serenading his lady fair, A. Collier.

We moored at the Eiffel Tower in Paris for repairs. While Allan was overhauling a spark-plug we were allowed to wander about the city. On the Champs Elysées we noticed a small, exclusive shop owned by Mesdesmoiselles Anderson, Ames, and Allen. Down in Montmatre we saw Ray Hale and Anne Ward performing an Apache dance in a cafe. On our return to the ship we entered a millinery store run by Messrs. Knight and Duncan.

From Paris we journeyed to London where we found ourselves surrounded by a dense fog; this fog suddenly vanished. We wondered how this could be. Suddenly we saw another dirigible similar to ours on the side of which was painted:

"J. HAMILTON AND J. BURKE,

MIST DESTROYERS—the two who brought London out of the fog."

We found the Thames River directly under us with a multitude of cheering spectators gathered on each bank. Two gigs (or non-submergeable rowboats) were just competing a race. The results were immediately announced and we found that Anthony ("Tony") Kozak was the victor. As a result of his remarkable feat he was presented with a hand embroidered life-preserver, which in case of impending danger, he was to place securely around his ears to keep his hair from getting wet.

His Majesty's orchestra composed of J. F. Norcross, concertina, E. Donovan, ocarina; J. Deely, jews-harp; R. Moxom, shoe-horn, struck up the air, "Let's Shave the King," words by Carolyn Marsh.

As we were desirous of seeing the frozen north, we flew straight to Baffin Land where we found Joe Falt running a competitive ice-company against "Dot" De Nyse and "Dot" Sherman.

As the air was too cold, we flew down to Boston where we saw the institution for the deaf and dumb, founded by R. Hayden and E. Moriarty. Likewise we saw the opera house where Dorothy Congdon was making her début. On leaving we passed over Carl Mork's Baked Bean Factory.

Five minutes later we were back in East Longmeadow. On debarking we found ourselves to be slightly hungry so we stopped to patronize the "Ye Olde Hotte Dogge Shoppe" run by L. Ellis, E. V. Johnson and J. Yule.

Weary from our long voyage we strayed out upon the blistering macadam in an endeavor to "bum" a ride to Springfield.

Prophecy on the Prophets

For ten years I have buried myself in the South American Jungles in a vain attempt to gather proof that Darwin was right. Although I had found plenty of monkeys, I could find no trace of the half-man-monkey which I had hoped to find. One day while on my way back to civilization I came out into a clearing in the jungle and noticed three ape-like looking creatures in the center of the clearing working over something which strangely resembled an automobile and then again did not.

"Ha," I said, "I've found my half-man-monkey, but where in thunder did they get that thing?"

I stepped closer and to my great astonishment I recognized parts of a very famous car, Fran. MaCabe's Chev., which was the main topic of conversation at Tech forty years before when Fran. and I were school mates. Therefore you imagine my surprise when I recognized that same car or parts of it in the middle of the South American Jungles forty years after.

As I was stepping closer to get a better view, I stubbed my toe and went flat on my face. Before I could regain my footing, they were headed in my direction with wild cries, and I thought for sure that my time had come. I scrambled to my feet as fast as I could, but as I faced them to defend myself, their cries changed from anger to joy. Then part of the mystery of Fran's Chev. in the jungle was solved. As the three rushed at me, I perceived that one of them was a woman, Margaret Hutchinson; and the other two were Fran. MaCabe, himself, and Stan. Winberg.

After we were through shaking hands and pounding each other on the back, Fran. asked me what had brought me in the jungles; they hadn't seen a white man for thirty-five years.

"Well," I said, "That can wait. But what are you three doing down here and how did your old Chev. get here?"

"Come over here in the shade and I will tell you all about it," he said. "Just after we graduated from Tech, Maggie and I decided to get married, so we eloped to Feeding Hills. There we found that Stan. was license clerk of the town where he was very busy issuing dog licenses along with marriage and gun licenses (he got the job through the aid of his high school diploma) so we had no trouble getting a license. As Maggie always liked to travel, we decided to take a tour in the Chev. and take Stan. along as chauffeur. All went well while we were touring America. The radiator boiled dry several times, but that was all right. The old boat didn't stop until, as we were driving across this clearing, an ant-eater came out in front of us and the confounded thing was so scared that it stopped dead, and it hasn't gone since. For thirty-five years we've been remaking it into an aeroplane, plus some new metal Stan. has discovered. He calls it FRANMAGSTANIUM. When we get back to America, we are going to open up a factory and exploit the Chev. plane."

Just then Margaret, who had been exceedingly still, which was very unusual for her during any conversation, spoke, "You know," she said, "Stan and I have been writing up our experiences while here and we are going to publish a series of books on them when we get home." I knew if Margaret began talking she would never stop, so I just got up and walked away.

As there was always room for one more in Fran's old Chev., they invited me to fly back to America with them. I gladly accepted and in a week's time we landed safely at the East Longmeadow Flying Field.

School Song

THE SPIRIT OF TECH

(To the tune of Sousa's U. S. Field Artillery March)

In the school, on the field,
Your good name we always shield,
As your honor we carry along.
North or south, east or west,
You're the school we love the best,
As your honor we carry along.
We will always fight with all our might
To uphold your well-earned name,
And where'er we go, you will always know
That your honor we carry along.

Weak or strong, loyal all
Who have been within your walls,
And we fight for the Orange and Black.
If we lose, if we win,
You're the school our hopes are in,
And we fight for the Orange and Black.
Then we shout and sing for old Tech High
On diamond, field and track,
And where'er we go, you will always know
That we fight for the Orange and Black.

In February, 1925 about one hundred and fifty freshmen entered Tech. With the help of our advisers we were organized. In our Junior Year we gave a May Dance which included many novelty numbers. In June of the same year we held a picnic at Riverside which was a great success. We are also the first class to have a Junior Prom.

September, 1925 found about four hundred and sixty meek boys and girls sitting awe-stricken in Tech's Assembly Hall. After a brief but never to be forgotten meeting we turned our anxious feet toward our future home rooms. February 15, 1926 our first class meeting was held in Vocational Hall. One social was given that year which proved a great success. The famous Tiger Hop was held December 3, 1926. The last social event given by the class was a dance February 11, 1927.

In February of the year 1926 a group of 163 ambitious and enterprising freshmen arrived at Tech to begin their High School career. Not being allowed to organize in our first year we didn't accomplish much along social lines, but we did make good records otherwise. Many of our members were listed in the honor roll, while others became members of the Glee Club, Traffic Squad and Gym Teams. As yet not much has been heard of us, but just wait and see if we do not develop into one of Tech's foremost classes.

The Class of 1929 with its 228 members expects to excel in school citizenship. A great many of our members take part in the Glee Club, Basket Ball, and Gym Teams. Recently some of the boys gave in assembly an exhibition of work. In our freshman year we had a very successful social, and we expect to have many more which will be even better. The class average for the honor roll has been about fourteen. We expect to be the liveliest class in school. Just watch us!

Class of $1929\frac{1}{2}$

We are here at last one hundred and eighty-five strong; fifty of us are girls. To be sure we are at present sans president, sans secretary, sans treasurer, sans everything but school spirit. In that we are strong. Notice our hundred per cent rooms for the Tiger.

Some of Us

When Francis McCabe gets his auto out And teaches the girls how to drive about, 'Tis the blondes alone That by him are shown; He's getting light headed, beyond a doubt.

If sunshine you would find for sure, Become a friend of Connie Moore. 'Twill prove beguiling; She's always smiling, And for all blues a perfect cure.

The Forum Club fellows are lonely Debating with men and men only. So they all wear girls' ties To please each others' eyes, Poor Forum Club fellows so lonely.

Do you know her we call little Vi? She's short, she's plump, and she's shy; She's kind, sweet, and friendly, So jolly and pretty; That's the kind we have at Tech High.

There is a young fellow called Pepper, And he is a very great stepper, He can dance with all sizes And takes all the prizes; Tech letter, prize dancer is Pepper.

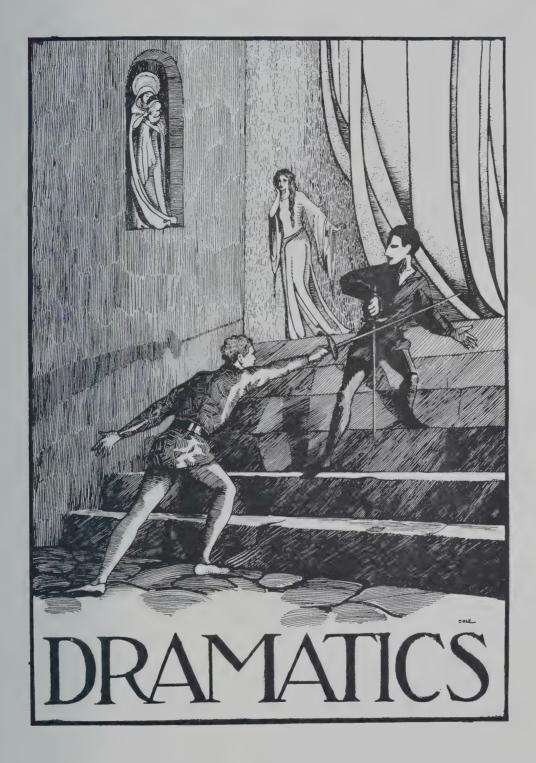

There's a girl here whom we know as Bobbie; We like her because she is jolly. She cheers for our team, Can sew a fine seam, Such fun as we have with our Bobbie.

There is a girl named Moriarty, Who is very shy at a party; She tries hard to please, And never to tease The teachers at Tech under forty.

There's a girl here whose last name is Childs, Who does all her work in great piles; You can tell by her looks
She has read many books,
For she greets all her teachers with smiles.

There is a girl here not from our town; Who seldom is seen with a frown on; She sings with an ease That is certain to please And her name is Dorothy Congdon.

Herb Carlson, cartoonist, may stencil Strange scenes with a pen or a pencil; But when he does trace On a screen his own face, He needs some other utensil.

The Dramatic Club

Tau Delta Sigma was organized in the fall of 1924 under the able direction of Albert F. Smith. The membership is limited to twenty-five members, fifteen boys and ten girls and a business staff of five members. Tryouts are made at the beginning of every semester to fill the vacancies left by graduation. Each year the club discusses plays for the next year's presentation, three-act plays are reviewed, and one-act plays presented by the members.

Since the club was organized, they have presented "Penrod," "Pygmalion and Galatea," and "Dulcy." In the winter "Arms and The Man," a delightful and satirical comedy of the Balkans, was given; and April first and second, three one-act plays: "The Workhouse Ward," by Lady Gregory, "The Pot Boilers," by Alice Gerstenberg, and "Make Believe," by A. A. Milne.

Just for a Day

Just for a day I'd like To wear last summer's clothes And find a little brook Where I could dig my toes In thick black mud. And after that all day I'd slide and roll In beds of soft, red clay. And with the night I'd straggle home, my clothes All nicely torn to shreds And even all the crows Would fly from me! My wild and careless hair Would be just filled with burs And thorns—nor would I care As long as I could eat Enormously and be Tucked in bed between clean sheets And dream quite happily!

The Banjo Club

The Tech Banjo Club has just closed its twelfth and most successful year. Under the leader-ship of Mr. Wallace Streeter, the club's new director, it has played out of school more than ever before. The Wilbraham Grange, The Eastern Star, The Longmeadow Men's Club, The Educational Club, and the various high and junior high schools have been entertained by the whole club. Recently the club made its bow to the radio audience. Six members of the club form a dance orchestra which plays at the dances given at the school. The dance orchestra has also made a name for itself as a dinner orchestra, having played for dinners at three of Springfield's leading hotels.

The Orchestra

Under the able leadership of Mr. John F. Ahern, this organization has developed into one of the finest that Tech has ever known. Unlike other extra curriculum activities the orchestra is a class for which extra credits are given. For this reason anyone who is able to hold his own in the simpler work is eligible for membership. Its members not only learn good music but also obtain the training from working together under one leader. As the school owns a number of instruments which it loans, many musically inclined pupils would not otherwise have an opportunity to study the art.

The orchestra assists at school functions such as assemblies, plays and class entertainments.

The Glee Club

The Glee Club is composed of both boys and girls who meet every Wednesday morning under the able direction of Mr. John Ahern. The members not only get excellent training in chorus work, but also become acquainted with high grade music. The club sang at the mid-year graduation.

Tech News

"Tech News," is our weekly paper published every Thursday. The purpose of this paper is to give in an interesting way the events that are happening in our school. It is written by a class in journalism under the guidance of Mr. Dwight Francis. Each pupil is responsible for about five hundred words a week. As there are fifteen pupils in the class, the paper contains on an average of seven thousand five hundred words. "Tech News" has in the past helped to build up the fine reputation of our school. At the nineteen twenty-seven exhibition a special number was printed which was given out to the visitors. This issue helped materially in giving a program to go by. "Tech News" will continue to give outsiders an accurate account of the doings of Tech, for the paper will keep its policy of writing news that is true, timely, and of interest.

The Leaders' Club

In 1926 the Leaders' Club was organized by Mr. Marsh and Kenneth Berry. As the name implies, this club is composed of the class and club leaders, and functions as a student council. Members present and discuss problems relative to school management. A committee is chosen to gather data about questions under discussion and at the next meeting to make a full report. There is then a general discussion and the measure is voted upon. If passed by the club, it is referred to a faculty committee which either approves or vetoes it.

Senior Pro Merito

The Tech Pro Merito is one of many such societies in the state of Massachusetts. It is primarily a scholarship society. Its members are those in the IIIB and IIIA classes who have received an average of 85% or over in all their subjects during the Freshman and Junior Years. One privilege given the members is that of having a complete set of books to keep at home so that no text books need be carried home for study.

The Athenaeum

The Athenaeum is a club of twenty-five girls chosen from the Junior and Senior classes who have obtained an average of at least eighty in their English work previous to their election. Membership in this club is one of the highest honors a girl may procure while at Tech. The purpose is both social and literary. The work acquaints the girls with some of the best poets and dramatists. This is made possible as poems are studied one year and plays the next. The meetings are held every two weeks at the home of one of the members. The club owes a great deal of its success to its devoted faculty adviser, Miss Mary A. Weaver.

The Forum

The Forum was organized in 1904 by a group of boys interested in debating. Under a regular schedule with other Connecticut Valley High Schools they were fortunate in winning many debates. Later, after-dinner speaking was introduced and has since played a large part in the club meetings.

The Forum gives an assembly debate each semester and their annual banquet is a much anticipated event. Membership is open to boys with a "B" average or over in English excepting those of the 1B and IA classes.

Le Salon, organized at Tech fifteen years ago by Captain Hartwell, was named after the famous Paris salons where groups of witty Parisians gathered and conversed.

Der Dutch Verein

This club was organized with the purpose of practising German conversation and of learning about Germany and its customs. At the club meetings, which are held the first Monday of each month in the club room, the members all speak German. In the course of a meeting, business is transacted, a few dialogues and usually a farce are presented and German games are played. In order to qualify, a student must attain a mark of B or over. If at any time this mark falls, the student is automatically dropped until he attains this average again.

Football

"Chief" Walmer turned out another championship eleven in the 1926 season. The team made a poor start but walked off with the interschool title by tying Central and trouncing Commerce. Commerce and Central then fought to a deadlock thereby giving us the honors. The season was closed with an overwhelming victory over Cathedral.

The whole team worked like a machine with Capt. Plumb, Christofori, Heim and Treat so outstanding as to be chosen on the all-city team.

Basketball

Once again Tech has closed a successful basketball season. This year's team, composed of green material, finished the season in a tie for the interschool championship.

The season started with three victories over Williamstown, Vocational and Monson. This fast pace seemed to tell on the team and they lost three very close games to Agawam, Bay Path and Cathedral. Tech then journeyed to Brattleboro and Turners Falls winning two fast games. Against Central in the first game of the interschool series they seemed to be coming champions, but they again faltered losing a close game to Commerce. This losing streak continued, Tech dropping games to Gardner and Williamstown. In the final games of the interschool series the team closed its season in a blaze of glory with victories over both Central and Commerce. Three Tech players were chosen for the All-City. Captain Brainerd Nims, forward; Sumner Joyce, center; and Jerry Pepper, guard. The team won eight and lost six games.

Baseball

This season's outlook is bright. Practice started during the warm days with nearly a veteran squad to work with. This squad looked promising and showed much merit when Tech defeated Monson 7-2 on a dark and gloomy baseball day. This game was featured by "Pete" Lafonde, who drove in two runs with a home run. The next team to fall before Tech's heavy sluggers was Turners Falls, who was defeated 13-7. Considering the showing of the team thus far we hope to have an undefeated season.

Hockey

The fighting spirit of Tech has again been demonstrated by the way the hockey team swept aside all obstacles. The first game, perhaps, was of special interest because it was played at seven o'clock on the morning of January eighth, due to the fact that Mr. Gray, physical director of schools, opposed its being played as a preliminary to the Springfield-Quebec game. The Orange and Black team displayed great skill and good form throughout the game, two qualities which carried Tech over the top in succeeding games. This season Tech won the City Championship, not having lost a single game.

Soccer

Once again has the soccer team had a successful season. Out of seven games played they have won three, lost three, and tied one. The biggest event of the season was the winning of the interschool championship. The team was led by Capt. Leslie, who scored 7 goals; Allan took second place in scoring ability with a total of 6 goals. This year the team was under the able management of Kenneth Winslow and coached by E. K. James of Springfield College.

Gym Team

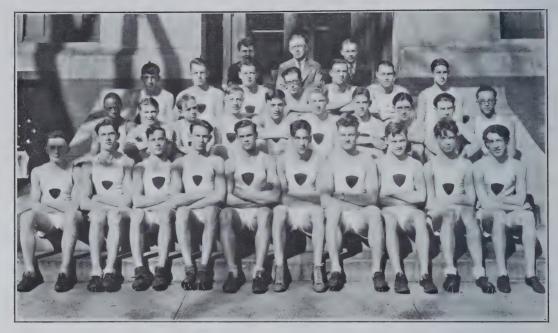

Under the able coaching of Victor Shonberg Tech has turned out one of the best teams ever to appear on the mats. The schedule included six exhibitions of which four were given in the school, and two outside. One was at Hope Church; the other, at Commerce. On exhibition night our gymnasium was packed to the doors with parents eager to get a glimpse of the team at work.

The Track Team

The Relay Team

Track Team

Although many valuable men were lost to the track team by graduation, Coach Parker has built up a creditable aggregation with available material, and again Tech is represented by a fine team

Practice for the 104th Infantry meet was begun after the winter vacation and proved worthwhile when the Tech relay team captured first place in the interscholastic relay, gaining permanent possession of the Forbes and Wallace Cup.

The first outdoor meet came on April 27, with Hartford Public High, at Hartford. Here, Tech lost, 58-49, the first defeat ever suffered in a dual meet.

At Suffield, Tech repeated its victory of 1926 over Suffield School, winning by the close score of 57-56. In this meet, Burlingame threw the javelin 151 feet, for a record breaking distance.

A small team represented Tech at the Worcester interscholastics, but only four points were scored, in contrast to the near victory of the previous year. Proctor took third in both dashes for the points.

There are three meets left on the schedule, Brattleboro interscholastics, Holyoke, and the Interschool meet. Tech's prospects for these look promising; especially the dual meet with Holyoke and the city interscholastics.

The Crew

As soon as the ice had gone out of the river, the crews got down to business in the shells after a hard month on the machine. Out of these there was picked a hardy varsity crew consisting of seven veterans and one green fellow. Coach "Johnny" Joyce and Captain Burke, the coxswain, have put them through strenuous workouts and developed a crew that Tech can be proud of. This is the heaviest crew on the river and can well support Tech in any contest.

This year there were three races besides the interscholastic race for the varsity crew. On May 14 the Rindge Tech crew came here from Cambridge. May 30, the Lynn High Schools sent two varsity and two junior crews to match against ours. June 4 the varsity crew went to Boston to race the crews there on the Charles River for the championship of New England. This was followed by the interscholastic race on the Connecticut June 11.

Gig Racing

Gig racing is something new at Tech, but it has developed rapidly into one of our most popular sports. The start of this new sport began in March of this year when a local business man offered a silver cup and a silver and bronze medal to the boys coming in first, second, and third in a series of gig races for Tech students only.

The first of these races was April 11 when Tony Kozak, Edgar De Meyer, Hayden Carter and Jack Spencer won from Moxom, Soule, Smith, and Pedrazzi respectively. The semifinals were held April 16 when Edgar De Meyer won a race from Jack Spencer winning only by twenty feet. Tony Kozak won from Hayden Carter by forfeit.

Only two, out of the original group of ten were eligible for the cup; they were Tony Kozak and Edgar De Meyer.

On April 23 these two boys rowed one of the most thrilling races ever rowed by school boys in gigs. Tony Kozak won by a length.

Hockey at Dawn

Before the sun's warm reveille Came forth to cheer the winter's day Our hockey team was seen to go Across the earth's cold gray-streaked snow To play a game. While in the blue The last faint star came peeping through; And near at hand a milkman paused To ponder over what strange laws Of sport or school had prompted this. A "cop," who thinking things amiss Joined in the march, soon came to find That all was right and not a blind Of crooks or thieves in new disguise But Techites going toward the ice To play a game. And now we here Should give our locomotive cheer Not only for the game they won But for the fact they beat the sun.

-Bard Unknown, Unhonored, and Unhung

All of Them

One day a Young friend of mine came to my house and asked me to Rideout into the country with him in his Brown-Lincoln. He commented on the fact that I was all ready to go.

"Yes," I said, "I Sawyer coming."

Just after we had crossed a Bourn down by a Marsh near Thorndike, we came to a Wood where a Finch was singing on a Walmer than six feet high. His song was as sweet as a Lute's. Jack my friend was more interested in the song than in his driving; hence he let the car run over a sharp Stone puncturing a fine Goodrich tire and ditching the car.

When I had recovered from the Shock. I noticed that the hills were Greenaway to the horizon. We looked over the wreck. Jack said that we might Bolster it up. We had trouble getting the Jackson; after we had them on, we saw that they would not Holton. We tried to dis-Spence with some of the junk in the back seat. It did no good. Seeing Howes it did no good and we were a long way from Maynard I began to get worried. The car we had was easily wrecked. I said that a car made in Francis a better buy.

"A Smith, a Smith, my kingdom for a Smith," cried Jack.

"Hahn in time are we going to get out of here?" I asked.

Jack admitted that it looked bad, and that we might have to Cal-kin and kith to get us out. As a last resort I used some tactics on the wreck that I once used on a Davis and on an old Mitchel, but they failed also. Rather than stay there by the car and perhaps having to Cook our meals until some one found us, we decided to Parker there and start walking.

The road was very rough and as my Best shoes, which I had on, had not been broken in, my feet started Aiken. We talked as we walked. "Does that Balcom tonight?" I asked.

"No," he retorted, "even Mackenzie that your Allen."

We came to a small town where there were no signs. We started to look for one and were much surprised to see a small boy watching us. There is always a small Boynton. He told us that Mont. Ceret was not far away. I knew that we were at Hesselton, a town which is still famous for its old church where Swen's on the job preaching in good Wilson English. Soon a man sped by in a Jordan ignoring our cries for a lift.

Later we came to an old monastry where an Abbott gave us food. After watching a Weaver at work for a short time, we went on.

"I wish we had a farmer's Hitch; cock your eye up the road and see if anything is coming," said Jack. We returned to our talking. Jack began. "A fellow spoke to me the other day, but I cannot recall his name. He was well dressed, large, and spoke rather softly."

"Well," I returned, "it might have been Brad Lee, but the description Fitzroy well also."

We passed a small artificial pond. Jack thought that it improved the land-scape. "Yes," I said, "Adams just the thing there."

We talked about school. The subject of a Newhall for assemblies arose but died the usual death of short funds, a disease common at Tech.

Then we came to the most cheering sight of the whole day. It was a sign which read, JONES GARAGE $\frac{1}{4}$ MI. AHEAD. We came to the garage but there was no one in sight, so we went in. We heard a shrill voice saying, "You can't Cockayne kind of a gun that way. I would rather fight with an Australian—Kiley—a kind of boomerang—any day." That must have ended the discussion, for a large man came out of the office. We told him what we wanted. He drawled, "Wallon the level I Puffer to supervise all of the wrecking jobs myself, but I can't go just now so I'll send Mr. Hutchin's son or maybe Mr. Richard's son.

When we came to town, we saw a Morgan but we passed right by, thankful that we were not in there. Upon reaching the house I flung myself into a chair and tuned in on WHAG (Richmond-Hill). I advised my friend to Reed Dickens' "Christmas Carrell" to pass the time away; later we sang "My Hart's in the Highland."

THE END

More of Us

Do you all know our Marion Nichols? We commonly call her just "Pickles" She manages dances; They go off in prances. She's worth her whole weight in round nickels.

Frankie Norcross, the boy with the Sax, Helps to make all us Tech people dance; He comes to each party, Adds spirit most hearty, Three cheers for the boy with the Sax."

Do you know that small imp Jimmy Burke? In attending games he never shirks. He goes out on the field, Tech's honor to shield; For the Orange and Black how he works!

We all know the girl they call Greta Each day she gets fairer and sweeter; Her baby blue eyes Look gentle and wise Except when with history we greet her.

There is a young girl named Anna; In bowling you never saw finer. Her aim is so straight; Her swing has no mate, And I pity the man who gets Anna.

There is a young fellow named Harry, Who has a voice like a canary. When he gets on the stage, He is then all the rage; By applause we all urge him to tarry.

There is a girl named of Lillian, Who every one thinks is a real one. She studies and works, Never trying to shirk, This modern young girl called Lillian.

There is a young lady named Kate,
The piano is surely her mate;
Her fingers will fly,
And we can't deny
That we all love to hear this girl Kate.

We have a girl named Abbie
Who never, never gets crabby;
If you try to tease,
Do anything you please,
She just smiles and tries to look happy.

A Sad Tale

Once there was a worm Who crawled along the walk, And he didn't care what people said As long as he could talk! His hobby and enjoyment Was watching for the rain That in the water he might see His face, for he was vain! One day while shaded from the sun Beneath a primrose gay, The gardner, careless with a knife, Cut half of him away. The vain worm tried to mend himself With dew and poppy fat! The gardner, careless with a trowel, Mashed his head quite flat. Unabashed by trouble he Marched on in cold disdain, But he fell into a puddle and Was drowned by the rain.

Poor Worm.

Quips and Cranks

Katherine: How do you like my new arctics?

Bob: They're immense.

Paul had just put a nickel in a public telephone

Operator: Number, please.

Paul: Number nothing, I want my chewing gum.

Norcross: Have you heard the Four Wheel Brake song?

Deely: No. How does it go?

Norcross: For we'll break the news to mother.

Chet. was applying for a job. The prospective employer wanting a serious minded boy, decided to test him.

P. E. Well, my boy, what would you do with a million dollars?

Chet: Gosh, I don't know—I wasn't expecting that much at the start.

McCarty: Vain one, why dost thou sip thus from thy saucer?

Second Hobo: I do not sip, foolhardy; I but test the resistance of the porcelain.

Lind: I've found a position that I would like.

Ambitious No. 2: Spit it out. Lind: Stable boy on a caroussel.

Tait: Wolves!

Plumb: Curses! And us with no door to keep them away from.

Porter: How do you like to sleep, head-first or feet first?

Ham: We'll if it's all the same to you I'll sleep all at the same time.

Myrick: I gotta sedan outside.

Dot: Ask him in.

Carl R: What was the chief recreation of the old Feudal lords?

Voice from the multitude: Riding the serf.

J. A. to R. M.: Will you please get away from the mirror and give somebody else a chance? What do you think. It's an hour glass?

Mr. Schock and Rifle Club on the range.

Schock: Fire at random.

A rattle of musketry and then quiet. A freshman still stands poised with not a shot out of the magazine.

S. Hey; you! Why didn't you fire?

Fresh: I'm waiting for Random to stick up his head.

Oh, look at the cute little green snake.

Better not go near it. It might be as dangerous as a ripe one. Maggie:

Leff: I got stuck up in the woods yesterday with two flats, rear end pulled out, and a burnt out bearing. How's that for luck?

McCabe: Oh it might have been worse. M. H. L.: How could it have been worse? F. McC.: It might have been I.
